

We the People

Declaration of Independence from Boring Meetings

- ✓ Dost Declare: We want meetings thou art necessary and hath focus and results.
- ✓ Dost Declare: Thy meeting invitations will clearly show value and purpose by using:
 - Mission Statement: Thee are coming together to: (decide, inform, explore, pillage...why?)
 - Outcome Statement: Upon completion thee will have conquered...
- ✓ Dost Declare: Thy last attendee who arrive'ith at thy meeting, shall take'ith thee notes and distribute.
- ✓ Dost Declare: Thy attendee who appear'ith late and asks "What did thee miss?" will clean'ith thy stables.
- ✓ Dost Declare: Thy more peasants or royalty invited to thee meetings, thy exponentially more difficult it is to make'ith thy decision.
- ✓ Dost Declare: Ye don't want do-over meetings because of poor documentation and crappy follow up.
- ✓ Dost Declare: Thou shall come'ith prepared, or come'ith thou shall not.
- ✓ Dost Declare: Thy default answer for everything shalt be: "We shall hath a meeting".
- ✓ Dost Declare: Thou will think'ith before we send'ith a meeting invite and look for other solutions first.
- ✓ Dost Declare: Ye shall not schedule an attendee for 50 minutes if ye need'it them for 5 minutes.
- ✓ Dost Declare: Any peasant or royalty using thy iPhone, iPad or personal mobile device whence bored or for non-related meeting functions, should take thine device elsewhere.

Fare thee well, fellow meeting planner or attendee. If thou hath need for assistance, or a custom declaration for thine organization, then methinks thou shall not hesitate to reachest thee at ww.BoringMeetingsSuck.com.